<td>Multitasking is efficient, right? Not true, say scientists. You’re actually making your brain work harder because it’s wired to focus on one thing at a time. When you think you’re doing two tasks at once, such as watching TV while working a crossword puzzle, the brain is really switching back and forth between both experiences and must use more energy. Focusing on a single task has been shown to be better for the brain and more mentally relaxing.</td>

Remembering V-J Day

The happy news came on Aug. 14, 1945. Calling it “the day we have been waiting for since Pearl Harbor,” U.S. President Harry S. Truman announced to crowds gathered outside the White House that Japan had surrendered unconditionally to the Allies, World War II was finally over.

Three months earlier, fighting had ended in Europe with Germany’s surrender. Now relief and jubilation erupted at word that the battle in the Pacific had been won. In the U.S., millions of people flooded city streets to hold impromptu parades, complete with marching bands, confetti and fireworks.

In New York City’s Times Square, sailors climbed lampposts and waved American flags, while strangers cheered and embraced. One celebratory moment, of a sailor excitedly kissing a woman in a white dress, was captured by photographer Alfred Eisenstaedt and printed a week later in Life magazine. The iconic image is an enduring symbol of Victory Over Japan Day, or V-J Day.

Allied nations also broke out in festivities, which continued through Aug. 15, the date the United Kingdom declared as V-J Day. Japan’s formal surrender took place a few weeks later on Sept. 2.

Wit & Wisdom
“Now came the dog days—
day after day of hot, still summer, when for hours at a time light seemed the only thing that moved.”
—Richard Adams

“A dog is a window to Mother Nature.”
—Cesar Millan

“You know, a dog can snap you out of any kind of bad mood that you’re in faster than you can think of.”
—Jill Abramson

“Dogs laugh, but they laugh with their tails.”
—Max Eastman

“A dog can’t think that much about what he’s doing, he just does what feels right.”
—Barbara Kingsolver

“If I could be half the person my dog is, I’d be twice the human I am.”
—Charles Yu
COVID-19 And Staying Healthy

COVID-19, along with Federal and State guidelines on social distancing, has forced a temporary suspension of all our planned activities for the time being. Along with you, we are closely monitoring all government announcements, and we will resume our activities as soon as we are advised it is safe to do so. We appreciate your patience and cooperation as we implement these changes in order to minimize exposure for our residents and employees.
